COVID-RELIEF 2021

We could not have anticipated the challenges that COVID-19 presented to our hospital throughout 2021. Our medical providers and hospital staff were faced with exceptionally high patient volumes, and the level of care needs stretched everyone to their limits. The community embraced our hospital and our care providers during this unprecedented time, sending donations, meals, snacks, flowers, and countless notes of encouragement. To all who donated, shared words of encouragement, and held prayer vigils, please know we are deeply grateful. Thank you for partnering with us to keep our community safe and healthy, and thank you for helping us care for our providers and employees, who truly are our most valuable resources.

DONATIONS OF NEARLY 3,500 MEALS

The following individuals and groups donated meals and/or snacks or contributed toward purchase of meals for our medical staff and hospital employees during our peak pandemic response. Our COVID-Relief contributions collectively provided nearly 3,500 meals for our care teams to help them through some very difficult days.

Tracey Clark
Executive Director

"Your gifts to support our hospital and healthcare professionals throughout this battle against COVID-19 have had tremendous impact. The monetary contributions, meals, snacks, flowers and notes of encouragement helped our front line employees through some difficult days. More importantly, you reminded them how much their sacrifice and dedication is appreciated. Many thanks to our care providers and our donors for demonstrating the true meaning of a community hospital."

Eric Lee
CEO

"Jennie Stuart Medical Center was founded through an act of Philanthropy in 1913. We have been fortunate to maintain our status as an independent community hospital for over 100 years, and our hope is the Jennie Stuart Health Foundation will help sustain and grow our healthcare services to meet the needs of our community for generations to come. Gifts to the Foundation support the health services and programs that ensure no one has to go far from home to receive exceptional, comprehensive care."

Care Champion Spotlight

Recognizing Byron Boothe 25 YEARS E.C. Green Cancer Center

Q: Byron, what led you into Radiation Therapy and to the E.C. Green Cancer Center?

"When I was in radiation therapy school in Evansville, Indiana, in 1995, they sent me to the E.C. Green Cancer Center to observe a low dose rate implant procedure which was performed in the operating room. Then I spent the rest of the day with the staff and observed them treating their patients. The therapists took their time to treat each patient as an individual and showed empathy to them. I also spent time with the physicist who shared his mission and vision of the department as well as patient care. When I returned to Evansville and my professors asked me what I thought, I told them that is the Cancer Center where I wanted to start my career. What impressed me the most on that visit was Dr. Murray and the staff. They were professional and caring about their patients. Over the 25 years that I have been with the E.C. Green Cancer Center, the technology and staff have changed, but the care remains the same."

Q: 25 years is a long time, so would you share what has most influenced your decision to stay with E.C. Green?

"One of the main reasons I have stayed at E.C. Green Cancer Center for 25 years is because of our caring and compassionate staff. I am proud to be a part of a team-oriented department where patients come first. We have a couple of staff members that have worked at other centers that say we have a higher quality of care because of our attention to detail when treating patients, and they would want their family members treated with us. That is one of the biggest compliments we could receive."

"We also have the latest state-of-the-art technology that allows therapists to maximize their skills, which allows for the most precise treatments. The center has grown from one linear accelerator to two linear accelerators. Procedures have also improved, and we now can perform high dose rate implants instead of low dose rate implants that I observed 25 years ago. Since we have the most modern technology, and Dr. Murray is very well-known and respected in the Radiation Oncology community, we can keep patients closer to home. It has been a privilege to work at E.C. Green Cancer Center for 25 years and to take part in the care of so many wonderful people."

Q: What do you find most rewarding about working at E.C. Green?

"One of the most rewarding things about my job is getting to collaborate with people who genuinely care about helping cancer patients. We see patients daily for weeks and get to learn about them and their lives. It is so extremely rewarding when I see cancer survivors that we treated many years ago and they are doing well."

Elizabeth McCoy
CEO, Planters Bank

"At Planters Bank, we recognize the importance of a strong community hospital, and we greatly value the dedication of our local healthcare heroes, now more than ever. We choose to give through the Jennie Stuart Health Foundation as a way to support the patients, programs and employees of our hospital. It has been a great way to show appreciation for the Care Champions who have worked tirelessly to keep our community safe and healthy."

Community Impact

"Cancer has touched so many lives. One of our main goals has been to give back to the community that has been suffering from cancer."

- VFW Post 1913 Auxiliary
Faithful Tree of Life Donor

Your Tree of Life Cancer Care Funds provide:

- Medication
- Wheel Chairs
- Transportation Assistance
- Compression Sleeves
- Financial assistance for patients experiencing barriers to treatment

Care Champion gifts recognize Jennie Stuart Health Care providers for their outstanding service. Over 300 medical professionals and hospital staff were recognized as Care Champions through gifts made to the Foundation in 2021.

Your Operation Love gifts assisted hospital employees who experienced an unexpected financial hardship.

Helen & Mike Cayce

"Mike and I are blessed to live in a community that shows such love and generosity to those in need. We realize the impact of our healthcare professionals who quietly and devotedly give of their talents to help their fellow man. This is why we recognize these providers as Care Champions and support Operation Love and the Tree of Life Cancer Care Fund through the Jennie Stuart Health Foundation. What a great way to pay it forward!"

"In my family's time of need JSH Operation Love stepped up and took care of one of their own."

A Word From Our Board Chair

2020 and 2021 have been remarkable times in the history of Jennie Stuart Health and the Health Foundation. Our community hospital was challenged to provide services during a pandemic. The staff worked long difficult hours and put their own lives in jeopardy to care for patients and families in ways that none of us could have imagined.

And the donor community response to the challenges has also been remarkable. Donors recognized the staff sacrifices and the continuing hardships of patients. Meals, treats and monetary gifts honored staff through the Care Champions Fund. And gifts to the Tree of Life Fund continued to assist cancer patients with so many things, like transportation to their therapies.

In this Gratitude Report for 2021, the JSH Foundation celebrates all of these blessings, the Hospital, the staff and our donors. It is a reminder of how grateful we are, not just during the COVID-19 pandemic, but all year round.

And 2022 will also be a remarkable year. There will be opportunities to provide amazing support for our families and neighbors who undergo cancer therapies at the E.C. Green Cancer Center. This support will be totally focused on patient care and experience, and I know you will be excited when you hear about the possibilities. 2022 will also be a year filled with opportunities to express our gratitude. I look forward to those opportunities and sharing them with you.

Warm regards,

Tracey Williams
